Office Hours: Thursdays 2:00-3:30, and by appointment

COURSE DESCRIPTION. This course is an introduction to the study of early Christian literature and culture (late 2nd–6th century C.E.) within the context of the Roman Empire, and more generally to the issues involved in the study of religion. We will explore the development and variety of Christian groups within their historical contexts, including their religious, political, and social circumstances. Topics will include martyrdom, pilgrimage, material religion (relics), monasticism, theological disputes, and religious conflict. If enough students enroll, we will also reenact a church council as our final exam.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES. This course has been approved to meet FSU’s Liberal Studies Humanities and Cultural Practice (LS-CUL) requirements and is designed to help you become a thoughtful patron of and participant in cultural practices. By the end of the course, students will:
1. Interpret intellectual or artistic works within a cultural context.
2. Use a cultural, artistic, or philosophical approach to analyze some aspect of human experience.

PREREQUISITES. No prerequisites aside from an inquiring mind. Previous experience in Greek or Latin is not required.

REQUIRED TEXTS

Recommended: A Bible. We will use the New Revised Standard Version for this course.

Additional readings will be made available on Canvas or library reserve.
COURSE REQUIREMENTS

- Participation in Class Discussion, 20%
  - This class is essentially a seminar. While I will generally begin class with a brief lecture to contextualize our readings, a significant portion of our class meeting will involve active discussion.
  - To prepare for discussion, I recommend the following:
    - Read carefully through our readings for the day.
    - Identify the three main points that you think each author is trying to make.
    - Compose three, thoughtful questions about the reading as a whole. These questions may be factual or related to terminology you don’t understand (e.g., “What is _homoousios_?” “What is _ascetisim_?”), but you should try to have at least one question that invites speculation and analysis (e.g., “Why does this author vilify Jews?” “How does this author construct the boundaries of Christianity, and why?”)
  - The quality of the course will depend on the sustained commitment and contributions of all its members. Attendance and preparation are essential.

- Commonplace Books, 30%
  - Dr. Falcasantos will provide Commonplace Books for you. Commonplace books will be collected several times during the semester. You may use your Commonplace books to record your thoughts and questions as outlined above (but a good Commonplace book will go beyond simply answering your questions). For more on Commonplace books, see http://www.adamghooks.net/2012/08/how-to-read-like-renaissance-reader.html.

- Short Essays (3), 30%
- Council Reenactment (Final Exam), 20%

COURSE POLICIES

- According to federal definition, a credit hour consists of “one hour of classroom or direct faculty instruction and a minimum of two hours of out-of-class student work each week for approximately fifteen weeks for one semester or trimester hour of credit.” Students work at different paces, but most find it necessary to devote more time than specified in the federal definition. My expectation is that you will spend at least three hours preparing for class for every hour that you are in the classroom. Look ahead at your readings as some will take more time than others.

- Readings are listed in the course schedule according to the date they will be discussed. Be sure to read and annotate the assigned readings before coming to class and bring copies of the readings to class for reference.

- This class covers material about which many students have strong convictions and opinions. In order for this class to be successful, it is essential that everyone show respect for one another. One of the most important aspects of a liberal arts education is learning to engage viewpoints with which we may disagree with respect and a willingness to listen.

- Attendance will be taken at the beginning of each class meeting. More than two unexcused absences will result in the lowering of your final grade for this class by half a letter grade for each additional absence. Excused absences will be considered on a case-by-case basis. You must contact me in advance regarding an excused absence and provide appropriate documentation, except in the case of emergency. If you experience an emergency, please contact me as soon as possible regarding your absence. In such cases, it is also a good practice to contact the Dean of Students at 850-644-2428.

- You are still responsible for all readings and assignments missed due to an absence. In the event of an extended emergency absence, please be in touch with the Dean’s office so that we can provide you the appropriate support.

- Late assignments will not be accepted without prior arrangement.

- Electronic devices: Technology can be a great benefit to the classroom environment, but it can also be a great distraction. Laptops and tablets may be used for note taking, reviewing course readings, and... course-related research. Checking email or social media and surfing the web are highly distracting to the entire class, so please don’t engage in these activities. Cell phones are NOT allowed and must be silenced and stored out of easy reach during class.

ACADEMIC HONOR POLICY
The Florida State University Academic Honor Policy outlines the University’s expectations for the integrity of students’ academic work, the procedures for resolving alleged violations of those expectations, and the rights and responsibilities of students and faculty members throughout the process. Students are responsible for reading the Academic Honor Policy and for living up to their pledge to “be honest and truthful and... [to] strive for personal and institutional integrity at Florida State University.” (FSU Academic Honor Policy at http://academichonor.fsu.edu/policy/policy.html).

The policy of the Dept. of Religion is that all violations of the FSU honor code, even first offenses, will result in a grade of 0 for the assignment and will be reported to the Office of the Dean of the Faculties. Additional sanctions may be imposed by FSU as part of the procedure for resolving academic honor allegations.

PLAGIARISM IS A SERIOUS OFFENSE. Using someone else’s ideas or words without proper documentation, allowing someone else to write your essay, or taking an essay from another person or place (i.e., the Internet) is plagiarism. Plagiarism is but one of several forms in violation of the Academic Honor Policy. If you are uncertain about whether a practice would be considered a violation, do not hesitate to ask me. My interest is not in penalizing you but rather in teaching you how to be part of an academic community and to understand your participation in a lineage of learning.

ADA REQUIREMENTS
Students with disabilities needing academic accommodation should
(1) register with and provide documentation to the Student Disability Resource Center; and
(2) bring a letter to the instructor indicating the need for accommodation and what type.

Please note that instructors are not allowed to provide classroom accommodation to a student until appropriate verification from the Student Disability Resource Center has been provided.

This syllabus and other class materials are available in alternative format upon request.

For more information about services available to FSU students with disabilities, contact the:

RELIGIOUS HOLIDAYS
As stated in the Florida State General Bulletin, University regulations stipulate that no student shall be penalized for missing class due to a religious holiday. Please notify the instructor in advance if a religious holiday you plan to observe falls on a day scheduled for class.

UNIVERSITY ATTENDANCE POLICY
Excused absences include documented illness, deaths in the family and other documented crises, call to active military duty or jury duty, religious holy days, and official University activities. These absences will be accommodated in a way that does not arbitrarily penalize students who have a valid excuse. Consideration will also be given to students whose dependent children experience serious illness.
SYLLABUS CHANGE POLICY
Except for changes that substantially affect implementation of the evaluation (grading) statement, this syllabus is a guide for the course and subject to change with advance notice.
